

Homebuyers Report

For over 25 years, Quest has been working with surveyors and mortgage lenders to develop software tools that streamline the valuation reporting process.

Since 1990, Quest became the first company to be officially licensed by RICS Business Services to electronically reproduce the Homebuyer Survey & Valuation Report and since then has become the major supplier of valuation reporting software to RICS members throughout the UK.

Why Quest?

Receive Instructions Electronically

Quest's case management system enables surveyors to receive survey instructions, send progress updates and return completed reports to their clients.

Intelligent Phrases

To speed up the survey completion process, surveyors can use their own bespoke phrases in addition to industry intelligent phrase templates, including the RICS-prescribed or Stephen Mika's (Survey Text) HBR Phrases.

Electronic Sign-off

The completed reports are available as PDFs, which can include the branding of the RICS licensed surveying firm. These PDFs can then be emailed to clients in a draft watermarked format or in a final non-watermarked format when electronically signed by the surveyor.

Digital Photos

Quest offers the option to automatically add digital photos to each report, for future reference.
