Quest praised at the Mortgage Strategy Awards 2010

Quest, the major IT infrastructure supplier in the survey and mortgage valuation market, has been recognised at another industry awards ceremony for its technology innovations. The company came third in the Mortgage Strategy Awards 2010 within its 'Best Technology Provider' category. This follows the recent win at Mortgage Finance Gazette's annual ceremony where the company's Q-Guard risk management tool won the 'Best Anti-Fraud Measure' category.

The Mortgage Strategy Awards are hosted to recognise and reward those who are finding innovative ways to beat the current economic challenges and support lenders and brokers' daily practices. Quest was acknowledged for the work it had done in the delivering innovations in the mortgage valuation and risk management fields, and finished third in the hotly contested category.

Comments James Sherwood-Rogers, managing director, Quest: "It is very satisfying to be recognised in the Mortgage Strategy Awards, as the finalists are nominated by the industry – the readers of the magazine submit their votes and preferences in order to generate a shortlist. The final decision regarding first, second and third places is then judged by a panel of top-level industry experts and I am very proud for Quest to be acknowledged in these highly prestigious awards."
